

What the U. S. Needs Is More Lady Godivas

But Where, Just Where, Would You Find the Horses?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, (AP) — Will a new group of Lady Godivas arise to rescue the American people from high taxes?

This suggestion for cutting the rising price of government was made recently by Frank Tripp, sage of the Elmira (N. Y.) Star Gazette.

He recalled the legendary ride of the original Lady Godiva nearly 900 years ago. As I get it, this beautiful Saxon dame told her husband, the Lord of Coventry:

"My lord, why have you lowered such a heavy tax boom on our pleasant peasants?"

"Because it serves them right," pined her master.

"Well, I don't like your manner at all," said the lady. "When are you going to give these poor people a break?"

"I'll cut their taxes the day you ride bareback through the town," scoffed old Man Coventry. "Haw, haw, haw!"

Well, he knew that Lady Godiva was one of the poorest riders in the whole countryside. But like any wife in any age, she took what her husband said literally. She thought he meant she wouldn't dare ride her own back bare through the streets.

So she put out an order for the peons to stay indoors. Then she saddled up a white horse, took off her robes and rode through Coventry adorned with nothing but her long blonde hair. One tailor, "Peeping Tom," looked out to see what all the hoopla was about. He was struck blind, probably by the bright sunshine.

On the way home Lady Godiva met her astounded husband, who demanded:

"Egad, and what the hell are you doing?"

"Cutting taxes," she said innocently. "And if you don't lower the rate, I'm going for another ride tomorrow. I've never had so much fun."

The next day the peasants got the biggest tax rebate in history.

Today the house of representatives has passed a new $7,200,000 tax bill, the biggest ever. Frank Tripp's idea is that 49 modern Godivas might help save the day—one to ride through Washington, D. C., and each of the 48 state capitals.

It would probably be easy enough to find the gal volunteers, but where would you find the 49 snowwhite horses?

Beef Slaughter Quotas Raised By 10 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, (AP) — With the aim of getting more beef on American tables, the government today raised July cattle slaughter quotas 10 per cent above those for June. It cut hog quotas about 10 per cent.

The quotas are the number of animals meat packers are allowed to kill. They are based on estimated marketings and are designed to insure fair distribution of meat.

The Office of Price Stabilization told slaughterers they could kill in July, 90 per cent of the live weight of cattle they killed in June last year. This compares with 80 per cent for civilian consumption during the present month of June.

OPS officials have expressed belief that marketing will be normal next month. They said that with the higher quota there should be a larger supply of beef on sale throughout the country.

In addition to the 90 per cent quota for cattle kill, federally-inspected slaughterers may increase their quotas up to 15 per cent to fill contracts for deliveries of beef to the armed forces.

Vaile, Mayor Tangle Over City Finances

Slothower's Economy Ires Commissioner

Head of Streets Raps 'Horse and Buggy' Program

By STAN KOESTER
Telegraph Staff Writer

The usual peace and dignity of the Dixon city council vanished last night in a rough and tumble verbal battle over the annual appropriations ordinance for running the city during the coming year.

Street Commissioner J. E. Vaile with some support from C. L. Ballard stormed the ramparts of economy of government defended by Mayor William V. Slothower and Finance Commissioner Carl Ploewman with Commissioner George Lindquist in reserve.

After all the wordage, the council voted three to two to place the ordinance on file for public inspection before voting on its passage. Ballard and Vaile refused even to approve filing of the ordinance.

Will Fight Program
The ordinance covers the fiscal year which began April 17. Before the argument was over last night all commissioners had their say. Vaile stated, "I can't see my way clear to accept this appropriation and will fight this horse and buggy program of financing through the next four years."

He added that the ordinance leaves his street department $35,000 short of needed expenditures.

The appropriation ordinance has a total of $387,713.18 divided as follows: Public affairs, $51,480; finance, $17,525; public health and safety, $91,540; streets, $69,298.18; public property, $30,860, and special levies, $127,000.

He's "Nosey"
While the main topic of the battle was the appropriation of sufficient funds to run the city, Vaile occasionally took off on tangents, once accusing Slothower of interfering with the work of commissioners. "You've got your nose in all departments," Vaile charged.

Slothower retaliated by claiming he is ex-officio supervisor of all departments and has a right to make suggestions. Frequent references were made to "how things were done under the former mayor."

Not Enough—Vaile
Commissioner Vaile charged that under the appropriation all the street department money will be spent "in three or four months."

He added, "I believe this city should be conducted as others are."

Amboy Youths Get Probation On Theft Charge

James Noble, 16, and Ivan Ketchum, 17, both Amboy were given two years' probation and fined $100 and costs each when they pleaded guilty to petit larceny today in county court.

The boys were charged with stealing socket wrenches from Paul Conway, Amboy. They are free on $500 bond each signed by their parents. Edwin W. Merrick represented them. They were first arraigned Saturday but the case was continued.

These are clauses calling for a wage rise to compensate for rises in the cost of living. The railroad contract is a case in point.

Picks Gun-Fight With Cops to End Life; 2 Dead, 1 Wounded

INDIANAPOLIS—(AP)—A man who told his wife, "I'm going to shoot me a couple of policemen so they'll kill me," carried out his threat and got what he asked for last night.

He dropped two officers with shotgun blasts at short range and then fell dead as three other policemen riddled him with shotgun slugs and rifle bullets. One of his victims died a half hour later.

Inspector Ralph Bader, identified the dead gunman as John Hoard, 37, a Negro. Patrolman Clarence G. Snorden, 29, died of wounds in General hospital, and Patrolman Thomas H. Williams, 39, was reported in critical condition.

Bader said Hoard's wife, Mary, 35, told him she and her husband had quarreled before he made his threat, and he had been drinking heavily. The two patrolmen were sent to his house on the near

Dixonite Stops Train, Flagged Into Court Here

A Chicago and North Western freight engine ground to a stop in the Nelson railroad yards at noon yesterday to prevent running down a man standing in the tracks.

The man, Edward Sanders, Lincoln avenue, Dixon, is being held in the county jail on a disorderly conduct charge. He was arraigned today before Justice of the Peace Sterling W. Schrock who continued the case until July 8.

According to Sheriff Charles H. Redebaugh he ordered Sanders off the Rock Island road to prevent him from being hit. Sanders staggered to the railroad yards and began waving his arms to flag down the train. After the engine was forced to stop, Redebaugh and Chief Deputy John Stouffer arrested Sanders.

SPRINGFIELD—(AP)—The Illinois House today adopted the recommendation of senate-house conferees on steep boosts in truck license fees, clearing the way for final legislative approval.

The senate is expected to quickly agree to the conference committee report, which calls for raising the licenses $20,000,000 starting Jan. 1, 1952, and another $8,000,000 in 1954.

An okay by senators would advance the bill for Governor Stevenson's signature.

House approval by a vote of 108 to 32 crumbled opposition of the trucking industry which fought the measure every step of its way through the legislature.

It was a big victory for the governor, who sought an immediate $25,000,000 truck fee boost as a main feature of his program for rebuilding the Illinois road system.

Backers of the Stevenson program predicted that settlement of the truck license question would speed enactment of a two cents increase in the gasoline tax to a nickel a gallon.

The nickel gas tax bill, already endorsed by the senate, is a second key part of the administration program. It will receive a passage vote in the house later this week.

Award County Road Contracts To Three Firms

Total bids of $35,090 for blacktopping Lee county roads were awarded to three out-of-town companies by the county road and bridge committee which met Tuesday afternoon.

A bid of $9,226.89 for maintenance of patrol one which covers many roads at various points in the county was accepted from the Johnston Roadbuilders, Inc., Joliet.

The bid of the J. W. Stahl Construction company, Somonauk, for $21,454.27 for blacktopping a section near Pawpaw, was accepted as was the bid of $4,408.84 by the J. W. Wetherby company, Ottawa, for blacktopping a stretch near Sublette.

Four members of the road and bridge committee were present. They were Charles Case, chairman, Harvey Risetter, Seth Anderson and J. W. Curran. Anderson made the motion that the bids be accepted and his motion was seconded by Curran.

Firms from Joliet, Moline, Ottawa, Somonauk and Morris submitted bids on the various projects.

U. S. Cost of Living Index At New High

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The government's cost of living index today edged to a new record high. The rise means 1,200,000 railroad workers are entitled under their contract to a one-cent hourly wage increase July 1.

The index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics rose to 185.4 per cent of the 1935-39 average. This level was reached on both the bureau's new and old type indexes.

The figure is for May 15. A month earlier, on April 15, the index stood at 184.6 on the old basis and 184.6 on the new.

The bureau has a new index, taking into account changing buying habits, but also continues to figure its "old index" because many labor contracts have "escalator" clauses based on the old index.

These are clauses calling for a wage rise to compensate for rises in the cost of living. The railroad contract is a case in point.

Illinois House Approves Steep Truck Licenses

Measure Nearing Passage; Higher Gas Tax Is Next

Accident Case Continued in County Court

The county court case of William R. Miller, 19, of 913 Center st., again was continued today. He will appear for a plea July 5 following a motion by his attorney, Edwin W. Merrick.

Miller is charged with reckless driving. The car he was driving crashed into an auto driven by Mrs. Christina Dinges, Sublette, at the intersection of Rt. 52 with the Eldena blacktop June 5. Mrs. Dinges was hospitalized with a fractured nose. Her son, Charles, 7, received a minor injury.

Miller was first arraigned June 6, his case continued to June 13 and again until today. His next appearance is scheduled for 10 a. m. July 5. He has not entered a plea. Miller is free on $1,000 bond.

Claim Probation Violated, Amboy Youth to Court

Circuit Court Probation Officer Edwin W. Merrick Tuesday afternoon filed a report of violation of probation by Jesse McGuire, 19, Amboy.

According to Merrick McGuire violated his probation by participating in the theft of a gasoline drum from the Zimmers Gas and Oil station, Amboy, June 18, and in the theft of some socket wrenches from the Conway Block factory, Amboy, June 20.

McGuire was placed on probation Jan. 19 following a guilty plea to burglary and larceny. Merrick asks that McGuire show cause why he should not be held in contempt of court and his probation revoked.

He was arrested Friday with James Noble, 16, and Ivan Ketchum, 17, Amboy, alleged accomplices in the larceny. Noble and Ketchum were given two years' probation in county court today.

McGuire is the only prisoner who did not escape from the Lee county jail when three others went through a hole in the floor early in January.

Iran Oil Tension Grows; Pumps Halt as British Tankers Sail

TEHRAN, Iran—(AP)—Crude oil pumping of Southern Iran's largest field has been halted because of an Anglo-Iranian Oil Company decision to withdraw its tankers, British Ambassador Sir Francis Shepherd announced today.

His announcement came as a showdown appeared near in the British-Iranian oil dispute. Tension was growing over reports that all Britons would be evacuated from the oil fields.

Production at the Aghajari field, about 100 miles northeast of Abadan, site of the world's largest refinery, has been stopped because there is no more loading at the deep sea port of Bandar Mashur.

Production of the Aghajari field is 322,000 barrels a day. Ambassador Shepherd estimated that production at the Abadan refinery which is fed by six other oil fields in southern Iran, could continue another 10 to 14 days before storage facilities were all used up.

Premier Mohammed Mossadegh is reported preparing to summon a special cabinet meeting to discuss latest developments in his drive to nationalize the British company's holdings. Iranian leaders, already alarmed over the news that Britain has ordered her cruiser Mauritius to Abadan, were little soothed by the reports that British personnel—totalling about 3,000—would be evacuated soon and the Abadan refinery shut down.

Ambassador Shepherd said he assumed the cruiser Mauritius already had arrived off Abadan. He said the big ship would anchor in Shatt-el-Arab river in Iraqi waters, only 200 or 300 yards from the refinery on Iranian soil. He said the cruiser was being stationed in the river to protect British property in the event of disorders.

Good Fertilizer Methods Key to Higher Yields

Soil Expert Shows Results at County Crop Testing Plot

By BOB HULEN
Telegraph Staff Writer

With proper fertilization methods, Lee county farmers can increase their crop yields per acre 100 per cent.

This was illustrated by Dr. A. L. Lang, director of Illinois soil testing, at the Lee county testing grounds in a conducted tour Tuesday afternoon.

More than 60 area farmers and visitors from Wisconsin, Tennessee, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina saw the results of grain fertilization on crops as compared with manure fertilization and no fertilization.

The testing grounds, which are located on All. Rt. 30 west of Dixon, were established in 1910 by a group of county farmers. They heeded the urging by the late Dr. C. G. Hopkins, head of the agronomy department of the University of Illinois, that such a field was necessary.

Legumes Practical
Dr. Lang illustrated that grain fertilization through the use of legumes was the most practical method of assuring large crop yields in this area.

Lang said that there isn't enough phosphate, lime and nitrogen manufactured in the United States to do the job of fertilizing Illinois fields properly let alone those over the rest of the nation. Therefore, the best solution is to fertilize the legumes which will in turn fertilize the fields.

Only Supplementary
Last year, Lang said, more than 500,000 tons of phosphate alone were used in Illinois. However, he said this was only supplementary to the organic fertilization by legumes.

According to the tests made at the soil proving grounds, it isn't necessary to "grain-fertilize" a plot every year. Once in three years should insure better yields.

Lang stressed that manure fertilization was good because the manure had the proper chemical balance.

The proper chemical balance for good fertilization, according to Lang, is eight pounds of nitrogen and five pounds of potassium to one pound of phosphorus for each acre.

He said that meager use of mixed fertilizer may raise crop yields, but will harm the soil against even larger future yields.

One of the reasons that legume-grain-fertilization is advocated for this area, Lang stated, is due to the fact that the moisture is usually less than in other areas.

Cite Test Yields
High yields at the soil testing grounds include 102 bushels of corn an acre, 80 bushels of oats, 46 bushels of wheat and 2.7 tons

Expect World To Soon Hear Of Soviet Plan

Ambassador Kirk Meets Gromyko for Cease-Fire Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—The West pressed Moscow today to spell out what Jacob A. Malik meant by the Russian proposal for a Korean cease-fire.

Acting on Washington's instructions, U. S. Ambassador Alan G. Kirk called on Andrei Gromyko, deputy foreign minister in Moscow. They talked for 20 minutes, and Moscow dispatches said clarification of Malik's suggestions was expected by the end of this week.

Secretary of State Acheson said the United States had not learned the intentions behind the Malik proposal, "but we hope today will bring further light."

Malik, Soviet delegate to the United Nations, proposed Saturday that the belligerents in Korea open talks about a cease-fire coupled with mutual withdrawal of forces from the 38th parallel.

UN Secretary General Trygve Lie returned to New York from Norway reiterating he is "always hopeful."

Informal talks were taking place among United Nations delegates here, in Washington and in other world capitals on the Soviet proposal. But in effect the statesmen were just talking to themselves until Russia was ready to explain further the cease-fire proposal.

YALU BEST GUARANTEE

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today the best guarantee for U. S. acceptance of a Korean cease-fire would be withdrawal of Chinese Communist troops beyond the Yalu river.

Acheson proposed a "phased withdrawal" of all foreign troops in Korea after an armistice.

In the event of such a settlement, he declared, there would have to be a full realization that its violation "would be a very dangerous step and would endanger world peace."

CONGRESS WARY

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress reacted warily today to Secretary of State Acheson's statement that a cease-fire on the 38th parallel in Korea could be viewed as a "successful conclusion" to the fighting there.

For the most part, Republicans criticized settling the Korean conflict on the 38th parallel. Democratic reaction was more mixed.

Dixon Band Will Perform Friday Night

Earl Seneff will conduct the Dixon Municipal band in the third concert of the season at John Dixon park at 8 p.m. Friday.

The program will include a march, "The Killies," by K. L. King; overture, "Piedre," by J. Massenet; intermezzo, "Wedding of the Rose," by J. Massenet; novelty, "Men From Mars," by Walters; "Cosi Cosa," from "A Night at the Opera," by Kaper; march, "Trombones Triumphant," by Keller; medley, "Seven Seas," by Frank-kiser; paraphrase, "Land of Hope and Glory," by Elgar with vocals by Randal Warfel, George Knouse, Gene Lebre and Dale Seneff; waltz, "Il Bacio," by Arditi; "Aba Daba Honeymoon," sung by Gene Lebre; "General Douglas MacArthur" march by Huffer, and the "Star Spangled Banner."

West Germany Bans Communist Youth Group

BONN, Germany, (AP)—West Germany has banned the Communist youth organization which calls itself "Free German Youth" (FDJ), on grounds that it attacked constitutional order in the federal republic. The interior ministry was ordered by the cabinet yesterday to act in cooperation with the 11 state governments to halt all activities of the FDJ Blue-shirts.

The FDJ already had been banned in the state of North-Rhine Westphalia, which includes the industrial Ruhr. The noisy organization has been whipping up disturbances such as the recent march on headquarters of the Allied high commission at Petersberg.

Bride Says Abductor Told Her He Spent Night Under Her Bed

ARLINGTON, Va.—(AP)—Police quoted a 20-year-old bride today as saying that one of two men accused of having kidnapped and raped her claimed he spent part of the previous night under her bed.

Mrs. Nancy Ann Hotchkiss told police that John Robert Polk, 19, related the incident and recalled to her part of a conversation she had with her husband. Police said Polk denied having been in the Hotchkiss apartment on Sunday evening.

Polk, a mechanic's helper at an Arlington garage, and William Robert Payne, 25, of Bethesda, Md., are being held without bond on kidnap charges filed after the abduction of Mrs. Hotchkiss early yesterday.

Police said both have admitted the crimes in signed statements. Both kidnaping and rape carry a possible death penalty in Virginia.

Commonwealth Attorney Denman T. Rucker of Arlington said he has not decided whether to prosecute the two on abduction charges, or transfer them to adjoining Fairfax county where the alleged rape occurred.

Mrs. Hotchkiss, from Winnetka, Ill., and married only 11 days ago to Navy Ensign James K. Hotchkiss, said the two attacked her several times and threatened to kill her. Hotchkiss is from Highland Park, Ill.

Capt. C. Burns Pressley, chief of Arlington detectives, said today his investigation did not support a report that Polk had attempted to shoot Mrs. Hotchkiss. Other policemen said however, that the bride had been threatened with a rifle, and that a bullet half-way in the chamber bore a mark indicating a misfire.

Was Russian Peace Bid Made To Offset Acheson Statement?

BY JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Every week in New York at the United Nations the chief of a different delegation to U.N. is called upon to make a radio talk. His speech is recorded and then broadcast to the world.

Last week, just about one year after the outbreak of the Korean war, it came the turn of Jacob A. Malik, head of the Russian delegation. He made a speech that took 17 minutes.

Since it was a world broadcast, it was a wonderful chance for Malik to get in some more cracks against the United States. For almost the full 17 minutes he tore the U.S. apart, blasting it as war-monger.

Vague Statement

Then at the very tail-end—as if it were only a secondary consideration although no one doubts he had instructions from Moscow—he dropped in a couple of paragraphs about a cease-fire in Korea, a vague statement.

Vague as it was, the world pricked up its ears although it will have to wait maybe for weeks of talking among the diplomats before it can learn whether Malik's talk was sincere or just more propaganda.

It may have been strictly propaganda. In fact, the Russians may have felt themselves forced to pull a stunt like that in order to offset some American peace broadcasts that have beamed around the world since June 2.

On that date Secretary of State Acheson told the senate committee holding the MacArthur inquiry that the United States might agree to a cease-fire in Korea at a "real settlement" of the Korean war.

Broadcast Proposal

The state department's "Voice of America"—this country's radio voice to the rest of the world, both inside and outside the iron curtain, broadcast in 45 languages—picked up Acheson's statement and began sending it.

It's been hanging away on that statement. So, in order to try to offset the effect of these American broadcasts, Russia through Malik may have decided to do some peace-talking itself.

And even though what Malik had to say came almost as an afterthought at the end of a 17-minute attack on the U.S., the world jumped to attention—although guardedly, with a wait-and-see attitude.

Acheson, although willing to settle for a cease-fire at the 38th parallel, told the senate committee this country would not agree as part of peace terms to (1) admit the Chinese Reds to the U.N. or (2) discuss the fate of

Words to the Wise:

It's great to be young—but try to live to be older. Youthful drivers cause far more than their share of auto deaths and injuries.

Formosa, which have been two sore points with the Chinese and Russian Communists.

Malik didn't say either of the two points would have to be involved in a cease-fire deal. The fact that he didn't give rise to some hopes he might be sincere. But for that matter, in spite of all the excitement about his speech, he didn't say very much except that Russia thought peace was possible. Hardly a remarkable statement since peace may always seem possible sooner or later in any conflict.

The Russians could have started the peace-ball rolling by talking directly and quietly with the United States and its allies in Korea. Instead, Russia chose the Malik method.

After his talk, Malik stayed out of sight, maybe because he was ill and maybe because Russia wanted to wait for the general world reaction before making another move.

Russia may have thought, because of the split thinking in this country on Korea and the loss of American lives, there'd be an enthusiastic outburst in this country. Instead, because of distrust of Russian intentions, the reaction has been cautious.

Preacher Jailed For Post Card To Miss Truman

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—A 42-year-old itinerant street preacher Paul De La Croix, was in jail today on charges of sending a libelous, scurrilous and defamatory post card to Margaret Truman.

Post Office Inspector F. H. Casey said De La Croix had sent other cards to prominent persons, including President Truman and Television Star Faye Emerson, and had been warned to discontinue the practice.

Casey said the card to Miss Truman was sent to the National Broadcasting Company in New York and that on the back was a magazine picture of Miss Truman showing her in a low cut dress.

TV Too Expensive For Jap Families

TOKYO, (AP)—Jiro Sato, Japan's man in the street, and his wife are eager for television but they are going to have to wait a long time for it. The reason: Nobody can afford it.

Receiving sets are far beyond the reach of the average man. Six companies are making sets on an experimental basis, but these are not on general sale. The sets cost 100,000 yen, or about $275. That's a sum the 15,000 yen-a-month worker would find impossible to shell out. There are less than 300 sets in Japan, all of them in Tokyo.

So far one license for TV broadcasting has been issued. It is held by Yomiuri, the largest newspaper in Tokyo. Officials of Yomiuri say they plan TV on a limited and experimental basis for a few years.

California Girl 'Scalped'; It's The Fad of Year

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Seven-year-old Josephine Amaya has been scalped by her sister, Velia, 14.

It was an amicable scalping. In fact, it was Josephine's idea. She wanted a Mohican haircut, like some of the "teen-age boys" are wearing here this summer. Velia obliged and did a very good job. Josephine is shaved bald except for a three-inch wide strip of hair that extends from her forehead to the back of her neck.

It's exactly the same kind of haircut 12-year-old Leon Kwai-wasser got recently to revive a hirsute fashion once used by the Mohican Indians. Of course, as a concession to feminine vanity, Josephine has a pigtail that hangs below the shoulder line, permitting a how ribbon, if wanted.

Josephine says she doesn't expect her girl friends to follow suit "Because they're afraid they couldn't go any place with their boy friends." Josephine says she doesn't have any BF's, so she doesn't care.

That is, if you can base such a distinction on last names appearing in current telephone directories. In New York it's a comparatively common John Zyzneski. But in Los Angeles (you pronounce it) it's: Richard Zzyzz.

Military Style New Design for English Suits

LONDON, (AP)—The Englishman is changing his shape again. Instead of lounging around in tweeds, his trousers sagging at the knees and his pockets bulging at the seams, he will soon be strutting about looking like a crack guards officer.

In short, he will be wearing the "military look." The "Tailor and Cutter," trade paper for Britain's tailoring industry, welcomed the change. The newest suits for men are based on military patterns with tighter fitting jackets with a slash up the back and narrow trousers without cuffs.

The new style, according to the magazine, is a reaction from the "sartorial hysteria" of American stylists which followed the end of the war. "Drape exaggerated itself into an early grave and the bright and exaggerated fashions made popular by Hollywood panted themselves to a standstill," it said.

Ruhr Miners Plan Strike

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—A planned strike by 350,000 Ruhr miners threatened West Germany today with a critical coal shortage.

Mine union delegates last night rejected a government-proposed 12 per cent wage boost and ordered the miners to strike July 1 for a 14 per cent increase.

German and American officials warned that Germany already is struggling with a coal shortage and that a strike would make the situation critical.

They estimated that coal stocks on hand would keep the big German industrial and utility plants running for little more than a week, if production was cut off by a strike. Any prolonged stoppage in coal production now would mean a grave crisis next winter, they said.

Ruhr coal miners are now paid an average monthly wage of 350 to 400 marks ($83.30 to $95.20).

The word "ptomaine" was invented by an Italian chemist named Selmi for the basic substances produced in putrefaction, and is now used to indicate a certain class of food-poisoning.

The first blood transfusion is believed to have been the one given to Pope Innocent VIII in 1492.

Miss Truman May Change Travel Plans

ROME—(AP)—Margaret Truman may have to change her travel plans and fly back to America to fulfill her singing commitments.

She told a news conference here today she may have to go home by air unless her ship leaves Naples July 5 as scheduled.

"That's the latest I can stay here because of my contracts," she explained. "If my ship is delayed and I can't get passage on an earlier one, then I might have to go by plane."

She is scheduled to sail aboard the S. S. Constitution which was held up in New York by a seamen's strike.

The president's daughter has a full day of sightseeing scheduled for her first day in Rome.

Out-of-State Cigaret Tax Bill Okayed

SPRINGFIELD, (AP)—A bill to allow collection of the Illinois tax on cigarettes imported into the state headed today toward Gov. Stevenson's desk.

The house yesterday completed legislative approval of the measure, which is expected to swell Illinois revenues by $3,500,000.

The extra receipts would come from taxing smokes purchased by mail order from Indiana and Missouri.

The legislation would apply the Illinois three cents a package levy to imports by making it a "use" tax. The tax on cigarettes bought within the state would be unchanged.

The house also approved, and advanced to the governor, a series of 21 bills dealing with pollution. The measures were recommended by a legislative commission which studied the subject.

One bill would authorize cities accused of polluting streams to issue non-referendum bonds for building sewage treatment plants.

Officials in Gibson City and other municipalities have tried repeatedly, but failed, to win voter approval of bond issues for remedying conditions criticized by state agencies.

Other measures strengthen the power of the state sanitary water board in cracking down on pollution.

The British Food Ministry, during food-scarce World War II days ordained that a wild rabbit was considered tame when it weighed more than three and one-half pounds, and a tame rabbit, wild when it weighed less than that.

We Love Every Nation, States U. S. Resolution

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congressional action was completed yesterday on a resolution affirming U. S. friendship "for all other peoples," including the Russians.

The measure, which does not require presidential approval, requests President Truman to call upon the Soviet government "to acquaint the peoples of the Soviet union with the contents of this resolution."

The house approved the resolution by a vote of 349 to 6.

LOSES 30 LBS. No Diet Recipe

Mrs. C. W. Bates of 114 N. 6th St., Rochelle, Ill., writes, "Rennel Concentrate is a wonderful product. I lost 30 lbs. with no ill effects—regained appetite regular meals. No more bloated feeling thanks to Rennel. I can recommend Rennel for reducing for it's an excellent tonic."

It's amazing how quickly you can lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's no trouble and costs little. Contains nothing harmful. Ask your druggist for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into pint bottle and add unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. It's that simple. If reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic with the first bottle, return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Note how bloated disappears—how much better you feel. Now is the time to reduce. Ask your druggist for Rennel.

From the PRESS BOX At Camp Ralston

Tuesday was a real day at camp with a light breeze blowing, cool and that wonderful sunshine we have been seeing so little of. The Brownies thoroughly enjoyed every minute. New faces among the leaders today were those of Mrs. Ralph Cox, Susie Rock and Mrs. L. P. Kenney.

Horseback riding is always looked forward to by all the Brownie groups, each group being scheduled on alternate days. Everyone shares equally all activities. Buck Deer ranch will long be remembered. What counselor while closing the gate at Buck Deer ranch locked herself out? Could it have been Bonnie Schuler? And was she dreaming...

Apologies to TWINKLE BELLS. Twinkle Stars is no more. These little Twinkle Bells were really twinkling this morning when they were the first to finish with preparing Hunter's stew. The counselors seemed to enjoy it also. Mary Jones is acting as Twinkle Bells camp council representative at meetings. Susan Branigan of Santa Monica, Calif., was a visitor to the Twinkle Bells today and hopes to spend every day at camp. Welcome back to Dixon, Susan!

Pleasant Oak had a visitor today also, a frog. Joanne Loomis caught the little creature, making some of the little Brownies hop here and there. Patricia Adams caught one too. Woody Wasson slipped and fell in the creek and splash, splash! Margie Helfrich also took a dive in the water. All the Brownie units enjoy the creek immensely (staf too).

Rita Gehant, a little Mini-hi-ha, was complaining of a sore leg, but the pain suddenly vanished when wading was suggested. She splashed around without the slightest limp. Good work Rita.

Toby Lee Eddy was chosen as student camp counselor for the Arrows. Print sculpturing was in progress in some of the units today and especially at the Arrows under the direction of Mrs. George Egbert. Plaster of Paris was used with a leaf or flower. Many interesting prints were made. Mrs. Egbert reports excellent cooperation and willingness to work and learn. Nice going Arrows.

And what is Director Luedtke about today? She has had a hand in the stew and all units reported it was tops. It all vanished, proof enough it was excellent. Director Luedtke is still chauffeur for the truck, transporting the girls to Buck Deer ranch and oh just lots of other errands such as hauling water, cots, etc. She no doubt is completely exhausted at the end of the day. Thanks a million Di-

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

War Will Be Winner in Many Ways If Peace Comes Soon

The words Soviet delegate Jacob A. Malik tacked onto the end of his United Nations broadcast caught the western world by almost as much surprise as the headlines from Korea did on another hot June Sunday, just a year ago.

The words had been long-awaited, for there had been whisperings for some time that Russia was considering peace overtures for the strange see-saw conflict back and forth across the 38th parallel.

But nobody was sure how serious the whisperings were. And in the immediate aftermath of Malik's suggestion for "Discussions between the belligerents," there was still a measure of doubt about the seriousness of the Soviet proposal.

The reactions were swift, but tinged with wariness. United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie immediately called for cease-fire negotiations. Nearly every nation had some comment within the first 36 hours—except Red China. The Peiping radio, airing its standard menu of anti-U. S. propaganda, said, "No matter how brutal the American aggressors, we shall defeat them."

In Washington, Secretary of State Dean Acheson studied the Malik speech and then decided not to amend his official statement, marking the Korean war anniversary, that "Korea has exposed the falsity of Communist peace propaganda. They talk of peace and plan for war."

The more skeptical are inclined to stand on that thought, too, for Malik mentioned his cease-fire proposal only after a long tirade that was virtually a summary of all the Russian propaganda poured out in recent months.

If it is mere propaganda, then Stalin must be grinning broadly, for Malik's speech raised the hopes of a lot of tension-weary people. If nothing happens to the proposal, many of them will be wrongly convinced that it was the West which didn't want to talk peace.

But if Russia is serious, there is a strong possibility that the West will have won a good deal in Korea.

The war which Russia has aided, but in which she carefully side-stepped any active role, is building up western defenses. And Russia now has other tensions, notably in the Near East, with which to occupy herself.

The big victory in a cease-fire truce, followed by negotiations, as Trygve Lie urges, "In the competent organs of the United Nations," would be new strength for the idea of the UN as an agency of peace.

It could mean, as Gen. Matthew Ridgway said on the anniversary of the invasion of South Korea, that "History may some day record that the crest of the Communist wave of cold-blooded aggression was broken against the arms and will to fight of the United Nations battle team in Korea."

"No society can possibly be built on a denial of individual freedom. It is contrary to the very nature of man, and just as a man will not grow horns or a tail so he will not exist as man if he has no mind of his own. In reality even those who do not believe in the liberty of the individual believe in their own."—Mahatma Gandhi.

How to Keep Father From Taking Roll of Villain

If you want your children to be as close to their father as they are to you, don't do any of these things:

One. Don't ever say to them, "Don't tell your father." The mother who tries to avoid unpleasantness by conspiring with her children to keep upsetting news from their father is in effect saying to them, "Your father won't understand. We can't count on him."

Two. Don't blame their father for any rules that are difficult to enforce or that you feel are too harsh. "Your father told me not to let you do that," makes Dad a tyrant. But sharing the responsibility for an unpopular rule or a "No" that is going to be resented shows children that their parents are standing together for their welfare.

Three. When asked for permission to go some place, don't say, "It's all right with me if it is with your father; but you'll have to ask him." That's another way of giving the children the idea that you want them to do what they will make them happy, but that their father may not be so understanding.

FATHERS GET THE BLAME

Four. Don't let the children see that their father has done something to hurt your feelings. Children naturally turn on anyone they think has done their mother a wrong, and what may be just a passing difference between your husband and you may seem far more serious to your children. And it will be father who gets the blame.

Five. Don't use their father to threaten them with, "If you don't behave, your father is going to hear about it," may make Junior behave, but it will also make him afraid of his father.

In questions involving family finances don't say, "Dad says we can't afford it." Rather, "We can't afford it" is the fair way to make that explanation.

IN HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, (NEA)—Hollywood vs. television:
A theater in west Los Angeles has put up this permanent marquee sign:
"ESCAPE FROM TELEVISION."

Don't be surprised if Paul Douglas plays Mack Sennett, and Jan Sterling dons a black wig as Mabel Normand in Paramount's "The Keystone Girl." Douglas turned down the role last year when the script came through the hopper strictly as a Betty Hutton vehicle. Now there's a new re-write.

Ruth Roman on reports that she and her groom Mortimer Hall are snapping and tiffing: "We're very happy."

Akim Tamiroff, who has been undergoing treatment at Menninger clinic for months, is about to resume his movie career. Pals say that his new-found talent as a sculptor even has art critics gasping.

Pat Neal and Gary Cooper planning a Lunt-Fontanne excursion to the Broadway stage? Well, they showed up with other stage-struck movie stars at Arthur Kennedy's Theater Workshop meeting.

The Marie Wilson-Bob Fallon wedding will be sooner than anybody suspects. They're shopping for a honeymoon cottage in Hollywood's outpost sector . . . David Brian, under suspension at Warners, is burning at the studio's decision to bill Steve Cochran over him in billboards for "The Story of Folson."

A stripper who calls herself Sherry Winters has opened at a Los Angeles pool palace and the Winters named Shelley isn't happy about it.

Paramount's cooking up a new movie for Bing Crosby with a Paris background.

HE MISSED IT

Steve Flagg asked Alan Wilson if he had seen a recent brawl between an actor and a producer at Ciro's and Wilson answered: "No. Give me a MISS by MISS account of the fight."

John Sutton, dogged by hard luck since his war service, has turned villain in U.I.'s "The Cimarron Kid" in an effort to perk up his movie career.

Hildegard Neff and Producer Kurt Hirsch have reached an agreement on their separation. He'll file for divorce in the California courts when he winds up his associate producer job on the Dan Durea-Mary Anderson co-starrer, "Chicago Calling."

All isn't sweet music between Producer Gabriel Pascal and RKO high brass on the subject of "Androcles and the Lion."

Oilman Walter Hendrich has been rumored as Peggy Dow's hubby-to-be, but U.I.'s No. 1 dramatic actress hasn't even boned up on "What Every Bride Should Know." She protested:

"I'm not going to get married for a long time. We're not even engaged. But he's a wonderful guy."

HAPPY DAY

Doris Day is all smiles about her role of Grace Kahn, the wife of the composer of "My Buddy," "It Had To Be You," and "I'm Forever Blowing Bubbles," in "The Gus Kahn Story" at Warners. She told me:

"I've met Grace and she's wonderful. Gus quit writing songs many times. Grace made him go back to it. Without Grace, Gus would have been nothing."

Bill Shiffrin, Lawrence Tierney's agent, on Tierney's recent fist-cuffs at Palm Springs:

"Larry begged the guy to leave him alone. But the guy kept on. Larry thought of his career and everybody who believed in him for five minutes. Then he couldn't take it any longer and swung. I say that it's a good thing that not all Hollywood stars are cream puffs."

The Doctor Says: If You Are Losing Hair, Get Your Doctor's Advice

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service
"Will you discuss," writes Mrs. M. B., "the growth of hair, and some causes of non-growth? Our small granddaughter is 3 years old and scarcely has any hair. I am really worried."

In a case like this one would like to know what is meant by the little girl having "scarcely any hair" since some people expect little girls to have long, beautiful, curly hair and anything short of this is a disappointment.

All this brings up the question of loss of hair in general—a matter that bothers thousands of people—men in particular—and causes the expenditure of millions of dollars given to those who promise to grow hair where none sprouted before. When discussing the latter I am always reminded of a highly-educated friend of mine who some years ago first noticed thinning of his wavy hair.

He came home one day with his hair singed under the impression that this would keep the vital juices from running out; the only trouble is the hair is not hollow and so no juices can run out.

To come back to the main point, loss of hair, whether on the scalp or elsewhere, may come from many different causes. Far and away the most common variety is baldness in men which may come at almost any age but is most common in the middle and late years. To a great extent this runs in families—apparently inherited through the mother—though other constitutional factors and such things as dandruff may speed the process.

BALDNESS FROM DISEASE

The hair quite often falls out after some of the infectious diseases such as scarlet fever, influenza, or pneumonia. This is usually rather sudden and the hair almost invariably grows back, though sometimes with a different texture and even color. Just for the record, falling hair can come also from poisoning with thallium salts and from absence of thyroid secretion. These are rare possibilities. There is also a fairly common condition of unknown cause called alopecia areata in which the hair falls out in spots.

One might say that there are three kinds of loss of hair: that in which an infection or toxin has brought it about and in which the hair will regrow; that in which some other cause exists which should be treated (like thyroid deficiency or alopecia areata); and ordinary baldness. For the latter there is no known way accepted by medicine of growing good hair where there was none before although the speed of loss can sometimes be delayed.

Dr. Jordan will answer questions from his readers in a special column once a week. Watch for it.

SO THEY SAY

It is not our objective in foreign affairs to dominate other nations. Our objective is to strengthen the free nations through free and voluntary cooperation based on a common devotion to freedom.

—President Truman.

History shows that during wars women dress up more. Instead of one necklace women wear two or three . . . adding and adding like people who eat when they don't have to. It's nervousness.

—Martha Percella, jewelry fashion director.

There's something about a red-head that rapidly separates a man from his money.

—M. G. Del Muloto, Superior Judge, San Jose, Calif.

—Sir Ernest Rock Carling, British scientist.

—Sen. Wallace H. Bennet (R., Utah).

You want your son, when he reaches dating age, to know all the small courtesies that men perform for women.

WRONG: Expect him to learn them all at once.

RIGHT: Begin in childhood to teach him to rise when a woman enters the room, to hold open doors for women, to seat his mother at the dinner table, etc.

While on a business trip you stay at the home of friends, at their insistence, rather than at a hotel as you had planned.

WRONG: Feel that a bread-and-butter letter is unnecessary, under the circumstances.

RIGHT: Be sure to write a note to your host and hostess, thanking them for their hospitality.

Water for Mecca

CAIRO, (AP)—The Saudi Arabian government has earmarked $1,578,400 to improve roads and water supply for Mecca, the Arab News Agency reports. This is the biggest allocation in the history of Islam's holy city, ANA added in a dispatch from Mecca.

Tens of thousands of pilgrims from all over the Moslem world every year swell Mecca's population. Water supply is one of the main problems of this city, built in the desert.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Q—Who composed the patriotic song, "The Blue and the Gray?"

A—This song was written by Francis Miles Finch, and delivered before a reunion of the Army of the Potomac. It was inspired by the fact that women of Columbus, Miss., strewed flowers on the graves of Confederate and Union soldiers alike. It was published in the Atlantic Monthly in September, 1867.

Q—Whereabouts in the so-called crucifix fish is the replica of the crucifix found?

A—When you hold the skull in your hand with the underside up, the bones of the roof of the mouth form a perfect crucifix. A cross is there with a figure, and you may clearly see what appears to be a crown or halo.

Q—Is there life in the Sea of Galilee?

A—Yes. The Sea of Galilee is 682 feet below the level of the Mediterranean Sea. The water is sweet and clear, and abounds in fish.

Q—Who made the casts of President Lincoln's hands in the National Museum?

A—Leonard Volk.

Q—What is the significance of the words "left" and "right" as applied to political parties?

A—Left wing members of a legislature are liberal or radical, while right wing members are conservative. The terms derive from their seating in relation to the presiding officer.

Q—What is the largest known star?

A—Probably this honor belongs to the invisible companion to the star known as Epsilon in the constellation of Auriga, the charioteer. The diameter of the companion is about 2,500,000,000 miles, about 3000 times that of the Sun. It is so large that all the planets of the Solar System out to Saturn could revolve inside it.

Q—What pitcher holds the major league record for most strikeouts in a nine-inning game?

A—On October 2, 1938, 18 Detroit strikeouts by Cleveland's Bob Feller set the modern major league record.

Q—Where is "Old Glory" at the present time?

A—"Old Glory" was kept as an heirloom in the Driver family until 1922, when it was sent to the Smithsonian Institute in Washington where it is today, carefully preserved under glass.

Q—For whom was Harvard University named?

A—Harvard college, opened in 1636, was named for John Harvard, a young cleric in Charlestown, Mass., who died in 1638, and left his entire library and half of his other property to the struggling new institution.

Q—Why do all babies have blue eyes?

A—The pigment cells of the iris, which determine eye color, have not developed at the time of birth, but appear between six and 12 months after birth. Then the eyes assume the color they will have through life.

Pegler Claims Many New Dealers Should Be Imprisoned for Aiding Communist Party
(Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

The Supreme court, packed with adherents of the regime which embraced our enemy, nevertheless has mustered the loyalty to admit that the Communist party is a criminal conspiracy to teach and advocate the overthrow of our nation by "force and violence."

A conspiracy is a criminal partnership. Every party to a conspiracy is guilty of the crimes of all the others. Persons who do not actively join the conspirators, but knowingly aid and abet them in any phase of their criminal conduct are subject to punishment. The late Doctor Mudd, of Maryland, who gave professional service to John Wilkes Booth after Booth had shot Abraham Lincoln thus helping him to escape briefly, was sent to a moated Caribbean prison for this. There are literally thousands of prominent new dealers who, by this precedent, are guilty of criminal complicity with the criminal conspirators of the Communist party in the United States and should be stripped of their spurious honors, formally repudiated by the nation and sent to prison.

Mudd did no harm. He did not know Lincoln had been shot. He was bound by an oath having the highest official recognition and by the purest ethics to do as he did. No political agent of the guilty political party which "recognized" Soviet Russia in the face of many formal commitments of the Soviet government to destroy this government, can plead any such justification as Doctor Mudd could. The fact that many of these betrayers of the United States had the run of the White House does not mitigate their crime, but aggravates it.

A time is not quite in sight but is just over the hill when the people of the United States will be of a temper to endorse the death penalty for all active members of the conspiracy and some flagrant accomplices without requiring technical proof of such acts of individual treason as were proved in the Rosenberg cases.

A justice of the Supreme court, being found guilty of aiding and abetting an enemy in his design to destroy our nation, will have a hard time proving that he knew not what he did if that plea be weighed against previous professions of great wisdom. He can't be stupid and omniscient concurrently. The same may be said of many other mockers, of both sexes, who have linked arms with parties to the treachery, giving them authority, power and prestige for the enemy's benefit.

The majority opinion, written by Chief Justice Vinson, repudiates a previous judgment of the same whimsical court written in the first Harry Bridges case. That vicious writ was done at a time when it was politically stylish and socially chic in the gaudy stews of Washington to propound as law the cynical paradox. It held that Bridges was not necessarily guilty of aiding and abetting the Communist conspiracy against this nation merely because he had cooperated with the traitors up to a point short of their goal of success. The fact that they co-operated with him was beside the point. The court held that if Bridges pretended to act in the interests of his subjects in the Longshoremen's Union of the C. I. O. he could, without guilt, accept the help of the Communists in their criminal conspiracy to overthrow the government. This was disgraceful sophistry, of course, but typical of the morality of the regime which the court represents.

Cooperation, in the very meaning of the word, is mutual and the mutuality, indeed the integrity, of the efforts of Bridges and the Communist party have since been admitted in the second decision of the same case, which has now condemned him to deportation as a Communist. Being adjudged a Communist by the same court which, on the same facts, previously held that he was not such thing, Bridges now becomes, an enemy of this nation and is ordered out.

Affirming the obvious correctness of the conviction of the infamous 11 traitors who were tried in New York, the court now holds that the phrase "clear and present danger" does not forbid the government to act in its own defense to prevent the success of the conspiracy. How often have cops, acting on confidential underworld tips, stepped in to prevent the commission of armed robberies? What court would hold the conspirators innocent because timely action had thwarted them? Such timely action does not dissolve the criminal conspiracy nor is the guilt of the conspirators diminished.

Plainly, every member of the Communist party is equally guilty and the fumbling, timid, inching conduct of the Department of Justice in prosecuting the leaders of the plot in little batches only indicates the regime of which it is an heir. That regime knew as well as the Supreme court knows today that Soviet Russia was an avowed enemy and that all Communists were conspirators. Every party to cooperation with the Communist party beginning with Franklin D. Roosevelt, who pardoned Earl Browder in the interests of "unity," was guilty of traffic with the enemy. The "violent" intent of the enemy never was in the slightest doubt and the guilty eleven and the new batch of defendants are merely more prominent but no more guilty than all the other members.

Melding Extras May Cost You

By OSWALD JACOBY

"Why do you say that it practically never pays to add a card to a completed canasta?" asks a Milwaukee reader. "If you have more cards than the opponents, you can well afford to gather in the extra points from melding your extra cards. Why hold on to them and get caught with them at the end?"

I don't really advise holding on so long that you are bound to get stuck with your extra cards. However, if you had a choice between automatically melding extra cards and automatically holding them up—I would advise you to hold them up.

After all, how much can it cost you to hold up such a card? Suppose it would count ten points in your favor if melded, but ten points against you if unmelded. The difference is 20 points. If you have ten such cards, your caution has cost you only 200 points. This is a mere bagatelle.

Now see what can happen if you are unwise enough to meld your extra cards just to get the credit for them. Let's take a typical situation in which an experienced player (not a foolish beginner) might make this mistake.

Suppose our veteran has about ten cards, while everybody else has only four or five cards. His cards include a couple of black threes and two or three other safe cards. He decides to add two aces and two kings to canastas of those ranks. Then he discards a black three.

The opponents make one or two safe discards, and then one of them freezes. The hand is fairly well advanced, and each player has a short hand. They expect to discard safely until the stock has run out—and they are likely to succeed.

The melding of those four extra cards has cost our veteran the killing that he could have scored. He will still win a moderate victory on the hand, but he might have given the enemy an unmerciful drubbing if he hadn't been in such a hurry.

Suppose he had kept the ten cards in his hand. The opponents

OUR 1950 BOWLING LEAGUE

Highlights of the 1950-'51 Season at the Recreation--

The statistics for the men's leagues this season showed an increase in both high series and averages. After a rather poor year last season when only one 700 and 86 600 series were turned in, the men bowlers bounced back with two 700s and 157 600 totals. Bob Hoyle had the highest series ever rolled in league play in Dixon with 756 in the Classic league, and Ned Sack counted 719 in the Major loop. All the averages also were up in the men's leagues. The girls leagues showed a greater improvement, however, after having a good season last year with two 600 totals and 269 500 series, they still jumped their high series 43, having 310 500s and two 600s. Midge Ramsey had the year's high total with 603 and Wanita Andreas the other high total with an even 600. The high series for the year by leagues were:

PUBLIC SERVICE LEAGUE—Ed Worley had the high series of this loop and also the most series of 600 or over. High series were Ed Worley 670, 612, 645, 624, 609. Dale Sennett 604, 628. Bob Whitehead 607, 614. Harold Healey 627. Larry Hoyle 641. Dale Sennett had the high game in this league with 246.

Help! Help!

We have quite a few requests for a Saturday night league for next year, from folks that can't make it in on week nights. If enough folks want it, we'll do our best to organize one for next season, for after all we try our best to run the alleys the way you folks want them, and the only way we know what you want is for you to tell us.

So, if you would like a league on Saturday night, let us know, drop us a post card, or call us. If we get enough response we'll have a loop ready for you when next season starts. We've known for quite a while that a lot of keggers would enjoy competition on Saturday night, instead of just open bowling, but just how many there are we don't know, so if enough of you folks tell us about it, to give us a start on a league, we'll do our best to start one for you.

Gov. Stevenson Vetoes Broyles Bill

SPRINGFIELD—(AP)—Scratched by a veto, the Broyles-Young anti-Communist bill was dead today—barring a successful move to override Gov. Stevenson's disapproval.

Few vetoes penned by an Illinois governor have been erased. Legislative leaders privately doubted that Senator Paul Broyles (R-Mt. Vernon), the bill's chief sponsor, could make good a promised attempt in this case.

To override requires 34 senate votes plus 102 in the house, where the measure received only 87 on passage.

The legislation provided that persons convicted of a broad range of subversive acts could be imprisoned up to 20 years and fined a maximum of $20,000.

Respected Motives

In rejecting it yesterday, Stevenson said he respected the "motives and patriotism" of the bill's backers, and like them, viewed the Communist party as a "real and sinister" danger to the republic.

But he added:

"We must not burn down the house to kill the rats."

The bill is "wholly unnecessary," he said, and contains "more of danger to the liberties we seek to protect than of security for the republic."

"It reverses our tradition concept of justice by placing upon the self innocent."

"It makes felons of persons who may be guilty more of bad judgment than of anything else."

accused the burden of proving him more than of anything else.

Jeopardizes Freedom

"It jeopardizes the freedom of sincere and honest citizens in an attempt to catch and punish subversives," the governor said.

Under the bill, top penalties would be meted out for any act "intended to overthrow, destroy or assist in the overthrow" of the state or federal government by force or other unlawful means.

They also could be imposed for advocating or teaching the commission of such acts and destroying records or hiding funds of subversive organizations.

Joining or remaining a member of an organization known to be subversive after Jan. 1, 1952, could bring a five-year penitentiary sentence and a $5,000 fine.

The governor said enforcement provisions were the "most objectionable" features of the bill.

These included setting up a special assistant attorney general with the duty of forwarding to local prosecutors all "information" received on suspected subversive persons in their areas.

State's attorneys would be obliged to lay such data in its entirety before the grand jury.

See "Grave Peril"

This would interfere, Stevenson said, with the responsibility of a prosecutor to protect a citizen through "sifting the many rumors, charges and counter-charges" which come to his attention.

"I can see nothing but grave peril to the reputations of innocent people in this perpetuation of rumors and hearsay," the governor said.

His criticism regarding the necessity of proving innocence related to sections of the bill which require loyalty statements of all public employees and describe the type of person public employers can hire.

"One who wishes to work for the state or to teach in a school must himself carry the burden of proving the absence of any reasonable grounds for belief that he is subversive or even belongs to a subversive organization, Stevenson said.

Such a person, he said, might be subjected to "malicious charges of disloyalty."

Besides, he continued, no "real traitor" would hesitate to sign a loyalty oath.

"Really dangerous subversives and saboteurs will be caught by careful, constant, professional investigation, not by pieces of paper," he said.

The FBI knows who these people are and can lay hands on them quickly, he said.

The governor said state laws elsewhere along the lines of the Broyles-Young measure have not uncovered a single case of subversive disloyalty.

Stevenson in his message anticipated adverse reaction to the veto, and it came promptly from Broyles.

The Democratic chief executive mentioned Alger Hiss, former state department official who was convicted of perjury in denying he was a traitor.

Stevenson gave a deposition at Hiss' trial.

He said the veto "will be distorted and misunderstood, even as telling the truth of what I knew about the reputation of Alger Hiss was distorted and misunderstood."

Broyles issued a statement saying:

"It seems evident now that he (Stevenson) insists upon following the same sympathetic philosophy toward Communists that led him to send a character deposition in behalf of Alger Hiss."

Broyles said the governor used "bad judgment" in both instances.

Agricultural Leaders Rap Price Controls; Freedom Is Issue, Area Meet Told

By BOB HULEN
Telegraph Staff Writer

ROCKFORD—Freedom is the issue in the fight against price controls, area agricultural leaders and farmers were told Tuesday night at a dinner sponsored by the Illinois Agricultural Association.

The dinner, fifth in a series in Illinois, had as its object the encouragement of agricultural workers to write to their congressmen and senators to urge them to oppose the extension of wage and price controls beyond June 30.

Agricultural leaders, sparked by their victory over the extension of beef rollbacks, were joined by leaders in business and industry from the Rockford chamber of commerce in urging a fight against controls in any form.

Agree—But

All the speakers agreed with President Truman that the fight against inflation was as important as the fighting in Korea but they did not agree with the president that controls were the way to stop inflation.

Floyd Morris, vice president of the IAA, maintained that instead of stopping inflation, controls are a promoting factor. He said controls bring black markets and subsidies and curtail production.

Production is the answer in curbing inflation, Ralph C. Rosecrans, chairman of the national affairs committee of the Rockford chamber of commerce told the audience.

Production the Answer

Rosecrans said production is what made this country great and the reason for this is that production was handled through the regular channels of supply and demand, hampered only by reasonable government restrictions.

He was supported by Francis Spence, secretary of the Rockford chamber of commerce, and Charles Shuman, president of the IAA.

Shuman and Spence both claimed that freedom was the basic issue in the matter of price controls. Shuman maintained that price and wage controls was the first step down the long road to socialism and communism.

Near Communism

Shuman said that such controls form the basis for socialistic governments in the Scandinavian countries and in England. He maintained that these governments were but a step away from communism.

"Production is geared to the work of the slowest man in these countries," Shuman said. He said the reason for this is that there is no incentive to produce such as there is in the United States.

Spence said that a survey sent out by the Rockford chamber of commerce to educators, laborers, businessmen, professional men and manufacturers showed that the sentiment in and around Rockford was nine to one against controls.

Can Buy More Today

With a set of charts to prove his point, Spence maintained that a person can buy more with the results of one hour's work today than he could in 1939.

All speakers said that controls were not in the interest of the consumer in that they force prices up rather than to allow them to seek their natural level.

Blasts Brannan

Shuman threw in a blast at the Brannan plan in his contention that controls are a step in the road towards socialism and communism. He claimed that the Brannan plan is copied from socialistic planning in Sweden.

"Whether they realize it or not, Charlie Brannan (secretary of agriculture) and Oscar Ewing (federal security administrator) are leading us right down the trail of socialism," Shuman stated.

A seven-point program was advocated by the IAA and the Rockford chamber of commerce to stem the tide of inflation. It is:

1. We must produce more than we can buy.
2. The government must reduce expenses and expenditures.
3. Our tax structure must be ordered on a pay-as-we-go program.
4. Credit must be limited on an equitable basis.
5. Savings must be stimulated.
6. Investment in agriculture and business should be encouraged to maintain production.
7. The sale of government bonds should be promoted.

The business and agricultural leaders felt that if production is left in the hands of leaders in private industry, controls would be unnecessary.

Eastern, Southern Farmers See County Methods

DR. A. L. LANG SHOWS A FIELD of oats grown at the soil testing plot west of Dixon. These oats were grown as part of a 40-year project to find out what methods of fertilization are necessary to produce the largest yields. Watching the demonstration are, left to right, Dr. H. Evliva, India; A. S. Fleming, Scotland; George Gillette, Warrens, Wis.; F. H. Shuman, farm adviser in Whiteside county; L. H. Harper, Black River Falls, Wis.; Jim Sowers, Lee county farm adviser; LaVerne Baker, vocational agriculture teacher, Franklin Grove, and Lang.

Illustrate Results of Soil Test Program

Good Fertilizer Methods Key to Higher Yields

of hay over a 40 year average.

County averages which are slightly higher than Illinois state averages are 61 bushels of corn, 50 of oats, 29 of wheat and 1.7 tons of hay.

Lang and others connected with the soil testing fields stressed that none of these high yields were raised with an excessive expenditure for fertilizer.

Farmers Miss Bet

In pointing out the low wheat average for Lee county, Lang said that John Spencer once told him that Lee county farmers are missing a bet by not growing more wheat. Later, he said, some farmers did start growing wheat, and some with good fertilization methods got as many as 40 bushels an acre.

The visitors from the south who went on the tour, some of whom are professors of agriculture, are expected to take home the knowledge of the methods of obtaining high yields at moderate costs which have been proven here in Lee county at the testing grounds.

The knowledge is also expected to travel to foreign lands as A. S. Fleming, Roxboroughshire, Scotland, and Dr. H. Evliva, India, went on the tour. They are studying American agriculture methods under the ECA program.

blame for putting this council in the hole."

In other council action two petitions for modification of the zoning ordinance were referred to a committee to arrange a public hearing. A petition by Erwin Bolton asks that lots one through six in block 10 in the West End addition along the Rock Island road be rezoned as a commercial zone.

In the other petition seven property owners ask that a square block bounded by Third street, Custer avenue, Clark street and Sheridan avenue be rezoned for commercial development.

Not Advisable

The property owners are Mildred and Elmer Boos, Marion S. Timothy, Keith Gordon, Jesse Carlson and Mary Lou and Martin Boos.

Vaile said he does not think it advisable to put a business district near the swimming pool.

Mayor Slothower appointed Walter Zink, Roy Webb and Fred Osterheld to the commission to arrange the public hearing.

Changes Mind, Patient Cancels Date in Court

A former Dixonite filed a motion with Circuit Clerk John O. Shaulis Tuesday afternoon which, if granted, may prevent him from jumping from the frying pan into the fire.

Robert Heckman, now confined to the state security hospital, Menard, asks by letter that his petition for writ of habeas corpus be withdrawn. He adds that psychiatrists at the hospital have indicated they will oppose his release.

Heckman was granted his petition to appear for a jury trial to determine his sanity. Circuit Judge Robert L. Bracken ordered him into court Sept. 21. However, if the jury decided Heckman is sane he would have to face three charges of assault with intent to commit rape.

The jury which sentenced him to the security hospital decided he was insane at the time of the trial but did not say he was insane at the time of the alleged offenses.

Three Killed, 50 Injured in Kansas Twister

By the Associated Press
Three persons were killed and an estimated 50 injured today in a tornado which struck a residential area of Wakeeney, a town of 2,000 in western Kansas. Many homes were leveled, trees uprooted and power and communication lines toppled by the twister.

Winds and heavy rain swept across areas in western and central Kansas last night and early today. Thousands of acres of farm lands in Kansas already are flooded from more than a month of heavy rains. Damage to crops has been estimated at $22,000,000.

Thunderstorms over the plains states headed eastward today. Scattered showers and thunderstorms also were reported in the Appalachians and eastern Great Lakes region and in parts of central Illinois and Indiana.

Hot and humid weather continued in the gulf northward to the Appalachians and extreme southern Great Lakes area. But a mass of cooler air moved southward over Montana and Northern Wyoming into the Dakotas. Rain fell in Montana where temperatures dropped more than 30 degrees.

Fair weather was reported in the far West with temperatures around normal levels.

Salt Spray Found Guard for Sailors From Atom Dust

CHARLESTON, S. C., (AP) — The navy has found that a salt water spray system is one way of protecting ships and men from atomic explosion dust particles.

The spray system was tested here recently, the navy announced yesterday and found effective. The tests were part of four years' research in radiological contamination. They are expected to give valuable information for use in designing a full protective system.

The navy didn't announce complete details of the salt water spray system, but it gave this information: It's a semi-automatic spray from foam and fog nozzles. It's used to wash down the ship before atomic particles have time to dry.

Michigan Man Found Starved, Near Death

DENVER—(AP)—A 52-year-old man who said he had eaten nothing but a potato for 24 days was saved from death last night by a phone call from his brother in Michigan.

Detectives broke down the door to Clifford Shrum's apartment and found him helpless from extreme malnutrition. They said he was little more than a skin-covered skeleton.

His weight had dropped from 180 to 80 pounds.

In words that were hardly audible, he tried to explain to reporters.

"I must have gone crazy, or maybe I was just pretty nervous," he said. "I can't explain it."

Fred Shrum called Detective Jack Field from Mt. Clemens, Mich., saying he had not heard from his brother in four weeks, and was worried about him.

Because of his weakened condition Shrum could give officers little information.

South Louisiana Pinched for Water

NEW ORLEANS, (AP)—South Louisiana, where the rainfall averages 60 inches annually, is pinched by a critical water shortage.

From Hahnville in St. Charles parish to Rayne in Acadia parish the shrinking supply of drinking water is acute. Ironically, this 180-mile belt, criss-crossed with bayous and rivers, forms the drainage sink of the nation.

50,000 Miles-No Wear and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil"

says W. R. Abel
Traveling Salesman
El Paso, Texas

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a 50,000-mile test in blistering heat along the Mexican Border, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts.

AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with OIL-PLATING, can make your car last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil.

SHOP FOREMAN
"I have 80,000 miles on my Chevrolet, using Conoco Super Motor Oil," says Nick Motzner, Shop Foreman, Twin Falls, Idaho. "The motor has never been torn down, oil consumption is at a minimum, and gasoline mileage averaged 23 miles to the gallon."

TAXI OPERATOR
"I have noted a decided decrease in maintenance costs and gasoline consumption since changing to your Conoco Super," reports Goddard Langlais, Taxi Fleet Operator, Lafayette, La. "I only wish that all the cabs in my fleet had been broken in with Conoco Super."

Red Rolfe Changes Mind About Those Sox

He's Tired of Hearing About Prediction

Hose 3rd Best in League, According to Detroit Pilot

CHICAGO, (AP)—Red Rolfe, who picked the White Sox to finish last, before the season started, is tired of having the prediction thrown in his face.

"Sure, away last spring I tabbed them last in the American league race—and I wasn't alone," said the affable bossman of the Detroit Tigers after watching the Sox belt 11-3 last night. "But since that estimate they made a lot of trades. That's why trying to figure out who's going to finish where before the season even starts can make you look foolish."

Hadn't Seen Minnie
"Take that Minoso (Minnie Minoso obtained from Cleveland) for instance, I hadn't even seen the guy play a full game until I came here."

The mercurial Minoso didn't lose any time stamping an impression on Rolfe. He collected three hits in five trips, including a triple, to take over the American league batting lead with .362.

"No, I take it all back what I said about the Sox," Rolfe confided. "Excluding pitching, maybe there's only two other clubs better than them. In my book, the Boston Red Sox will be awfully tough. And those New York Yankees—brother, watch out for them. They can shut you out anytime with Eddie Lopat, Allie Reynolds and Vic Raschi. Those pitchers won't give you three runs a game, and you can't win against the Yankees with just three runs."

What About Hurlers?
As for the Sox, who have boosted their league lead to two games over New York, Rolfe thinks they suffer from pitching over the long haul, but they have perfect combination of speed and power.

"Speed—now there's something that's more valuable than a lot of baseball men think," analysed the college-trained redhead. "It alone can counteract good pitching by the opposition. It can rattle an opponent into making mistakes."

"Speed, combined with base hits, is darn near unbeatable. That's what the Sox have. And so far fellows like Minoso, Fox and that long-ball hitter, Eddie Robinson, have not proved to be just streak hitters. They are playing steady. I'll take the steady type any day, even if they can't hit .300."

Crowd Jams Park
Before the White Sox-Detroit game last night, Rolfe peered out of the dugout at the crowd of 47,000 jamming Comiskey park.

"Just look at them—every player on the field, the Tigers as well as the Sox, can just feel the excitement being given off by those fans," observed Rolfe. "The rise of the Sox has been a tremendous thing for baseball as a whole."

Dizzy Trout, veteran Tiger pitcher, heartily agreed.
"Yeah, look at them," he said. "This is the first time in 13 years I've come into Comiskey park and seen such a sight."

The average U. S. potato yield from 1919 to 1938 was 110 bushels per acre. By 1950, the average yield had risen to 238 bushels an acre.

RUMBA OR SAMBA?—Third Baseman Orestes Minoso, 8, and Chico Carrasquel, a Cuban and a Venezuelan, seem to be doing a Latin dance as they go after a pop-up on the foul line in short, left field. The shortstop makes the catch. (NEA)

Rain Halts Womens' Golf At Decatur

BULLETIN
DECATUR, (AP)—Second round play in the Illinois Women's championship golf tournament today was postponed because of rain.

DECATUR—(AP)—Defending champion Marjorie Lindsay, of Decatur, opposed Tonnie Riley, a Champaign miss, today as the Illinois Women's Golf Association's tournament moved into the second round.

Miss Lindsay did not lose a hole yesterday in defeating Miss Babette Stipes of Champaign, 8 and 7 over the Decatur Country club course. The title defender won the first four holes and then coasted to win the match.

Dr. Kalb Gal Loses
Miss Riley eliminated Mrs. Perry Fiske, DeKalb, 6 and 5. In another match yesterday, Miss Natalie Bering, also of the host club, eliminated Mrs. C. B. Potter of the Medinah Club, Chicago, 7 and 5. Miss Bering, who tied for the medal honors with Miss Lindsay on Monday, had birdies on the eighth and 13th holes.

Miss Bering opposed Mrs. H. O. Breault, of Chicago's Olympia Fields, in today's second round match. Mrs. Breault eliminated Mrs. Bernie Sick, Chicago, yesterday 5 and 4.

Miss More Wins
Ruth More of Pekin started a drive for her fourth Illinois State title yesterday with a 9 and 7 triumph over Mrs. Nelson McBrien, of Alton. Today Miss More went up against Virginia Dennehy, of Lake Forest. Miss Dennehy, 17-year-old state junior champion, ousted Pat Leith, of Elgin, yesterday 1 up. Virginia Ingram of Winnetka, another former champion, advanced to the second round by outlasting Rena Nelson, of Highland Park, 3 and 2.

Dutch Leonard's Knuckle Ball Blocks Cards' Chance to Gain

By the Associated Press

The St. Louis Cardinals appear destined to hold the third place position but advance no farther in the National league pennant race. Last night at Sportsman's Park the Cards had an excellent opportunity to pick up ground on the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers. But 41-year-old Dutch Leonard served up his knuckle ball and the Chicago Cubs grabbed a 7-5 triumph in 10 innings.

Rally Ties Game
A three-run rally by the Cardinals in the eighth tied the score at 5-5, but the late heroics were to no avail. Leonard broke off the scoring surge and Dee Fondy smacked a pinch-hit double to score the winning runs in the tenth.

The loss, third straight for Cliff Chambers as a Redbird, kept the Cards eight games in back of the Brooks and dropped them three games behind the second place New York Giants.

Little Joe Presko (6-3) probably will work for the Cards in the second game of the series tonight against either Frank Hiller (4-5) or Bob Rush (5-3).

Browns Fall Too
The St. Louis Browns also experienced extra-inning failure last night, losing to the Cleveland Indians, 6-4, when Luke Easter pounded a two-run home run in the eleventh.

The Browns took a 4-1 lead in the top half of the seventh, but the Indians came back in their half of the inning to tie the score.

Little North Texas Keeps NCAA Team Golf Championship

COLUMBUS, O.—(AP)—Four iron-crackin' Texans who attend a college of slightly over 5,000 students have kept their stranglehold on National Collegiate golf honors in the NCAA tournament at Ohio State university.

Little North Texas State college ambled off for the third straight year with the team championship yesterday after hog-tieing a flock of crack golfers from some of the biggest universities in the nation.

Only a 32-year-old ex-GI from the University of Detroit drew as much interest. Medalist Sam Kocis, who won his prize with a 141 total yesterday, was to lead 64 qualifiers in match play today.

Where Have You Been all its Life?

THIS ad is addressed to the fellow known as "the man on the street."

From that vantage point, you must have noticed that a lot of folks are driving 1951 Buicks.

You must have noted that you can spot one of these beauties—by its sparkling forefront—its gleaming fender ports—(three for the SPECIAL and SUPER, four for the ROADMASTER)—and by its fluent grace of lines and contours.

You've probably noticed, also, that these Buicks give a good account of themselves in traffic—ease to a gentle stop—get away to a nimble start when the light says, "Go."

You may even have noticed that these cars have a level-gaited stride that traces, as we've said before, to the fact that each wheel rides beneath its own coil spring.

But what we'd like to know is—when are you going to try one?

It's about time you climbed in the driver's seat.

It's about time that you sensed for yourself the thrill that comes from feeling your shoulders sink back in the cushions, when your toe gives the gas treadle a gentle nudge.

It's about time for you to be on the receiving end of those admiring glances which are the due of folks smart enough to pick the smart buy of the year.

What's holding you back? It can't be prices—for as you can see for yourself, you can own a SPECIAL for less than the price of some sixes—and SUPERS or ROADMASTERS are just as smart a buy in their fields.

So why not end the suspense? The welcome mat is out at our showrooms. We hope to greet you soon.

Senate Votes to Reconsider Hike In Security Pay

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The senate has agreed to reconsider its action to increase the federal share of Social Security relief payments to the states by about $250,000,000.

By voice vote yesterday, it approved a reconsideration motion by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) and then sent the proposal to the finance committee with instructions to report back within two weeks. The proposal, previously approved as an amendment to a minor house bill, would have raised by $5 a month the payments to the states for the aged, blind and totally disabled, and by $3 a month those for dependent children.

Taft objected that the increases would not necessarily be passed on to the beneficiaries.

Lions Urged to Support North Atlantic Pact

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J.—(AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver asked Lions club members today to get Grass roots support behind the idea of a federation of the North Atlantic nations.

The Tennessee Democrat said the barriers that separate free men must be pulled down voluntarily if they are not to be smashed down by international Communism bent on "the Communist way (of) enslavement."

"We must never underestimate Communism," he said in an address prepared for the annual convention of the Lions International. "It is no mere political faith... Communism is a way of life (which) in the matter of erasing barriers has been much more successful than democracy. Today, three-quarters of a billion persons in an area of 15,000,000 square miles have been brought into a state of almost complete unity."

Kefauver, with 26 other senators and 105 house members from both parties, has signed a proposed congressional resolution calling upon the government to organize a meeting of political representatives from the member nations of the North Atlantic defense pact to discuss federation.

Losses Grow in 4 Forest Fires

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., (AP)—Four major fires raged today in the parched national forests of Arizona, Colorado and New Mexico.

The U. S. Forest Service reported three new fires yesterday, one in each of the states. In addition, mopping up operations continued on numerous smaller fires throughout the area.

The biggest blaze continued to be the Gila National forest fire in southwestern Mexico where more than 30,000 acres of timber, valued at $250,000, has been destroyed in the last six days. About 1,200 men from seven states are trying to check the fire which is still out of control.

The area of The Netherlands is 15,764 square miles.

Natty Robber Arrested for Jewelry Theft

NEW YORK—(AP)—A yen for natty clothes today brought robbery charges against a self-styled "actor-artist," accused of twice holding up the same midtown jewelry store for a total of $220,000 in gems.

The 34-year-old man-about-town, Arthur Chesler, said he picked up the fashionable Jean Schlumberger, nee, shop because people believe "lightning never strikes twice" in the same place. He even went back a third time, he said, but this time the store was wary and had a private detective on hand. The detective chased Chesler, who lost a Panama hat.

Police said they traced the Panama hat, of an expensive and limited manufacture, to Chesler.

A bartender, Thomas Keenan, 28, also was arrested in connection with the holdups. Keenan was charged with criminally receiving stolen goods.

The stolen gems have not been recovered.
